ADVANCING THE PROFESSION OF AUDIOLOGY

THE ACADEMY BOARD OF DIRECTORS has identified four entities with missions critical to achieving our preferred futures, and the Academy has entered into written agreements (memoranda of understanding) with each: the American Academy of Audiology Foundation, the American Board of Audiology, the Accreditation Commission for Audiology Education, and the Student Academy of Audiology. The partnerships between the Academy and these four organizations have been dubbed the “A4.”

The Academy’s mission illustrated on the next page represents what we as the Academy and the A4 are working on and achieving for the profession and for our members.

Please review this Membership Resource Guide—an overview of the association’s current member offerings. Inform potential members of the Academy’s partnerships, products, services, and initiatives, and feel free to contact us with any questions, issues, or suggestions!

Academy Partners

Serving the professional and educating the public

Philanthropy

...supporting research, education, and public awareness

Certification for Individuals

...promoting excellence through voluntary general and specialty certifications

Accreditation for Programs

...upholding standards of excellence in education at AuD programs

Student Development

...advancing the rights, welfare, and interests of audiology students

ORGANIZATION	PURPOSE	MISSION
AAA FOUNDATION	Philanthropy	To promote philanthropy in support of research, education, and public awareness in audiology and hearing science.
ABA	Voluntary certification for individuals	An autonomous organization, dedicated to enhancing audiologic services to the public by promulgating universally recognized standards in professional practice. The ABA encourages audiologists to exceed these prescribed standards, thereby promoting a high level of professional development and ethical practice.
AACAE	Accreditation for AuD programs	To serve the public by establishing, maintaining, and applying standards to ensure the academic quality and continuous improvement of audiology education that reflects the evolving practice of audiology.
SAA	Provide a direct connection between students and their future professional home and discipline	To serve as a collective voice for students and advance the rights, interests, and welfare of students pursuing careers in audiology. The SAA introduces students to lifelong involvement in activities that promote and advance the profession of audiology, and provides services, information, education, representation, and advocacy for the profession and the public we serve.

The Academy's advocacy efforts aim to educate elected officials and influence policies regarding hearing health-care issues, while achieving recognition by policymakers of the value of audiologists' full scope of practice. Advocacy success is one of the primary goals of the Academy's Preferred Futures, and the Academy encourages all of its members to use its advocacy resources to learn about important initiatives impacting audiologists and get involved!

www.audiology.org/advocacy

Political Action Committee (PAC)

The purpose of the Academy's PAC is to promote policy goals important to audiologists and the practice of audiology. By supporting like-minded candidates for elective office, we can increase understanding among elected officials of the unique and important role of audiology in the delivery of high quality healthcare to patients.

www.audiology.org/advocacy/pac

Legislative Action Center

The Academy's Legislative Action Center allows you to find information about current issues which affect audiology, locate your representatives, and send them editable correspondence to express your support or opposition for an issue.

<http://capwiz.com/audiology/home>

Honors

Each year, the Academy honors individuals who have made great contributions to the field of audiology. Selected recipients are presented with awards at the Honors and Awards Banquet during AudiologyNOW!® The Academy honors include the Jerger Career Award for Research in Audiology, Samuel F. Lybarger Award for Achievements in Industry, International Award in Hearing, Humanitarian Award, Career Award in Hearing or Balance, and Distinguished Achievement Award.

www.audiology.org/about/information/honors

Research Grants in Hearing and Balance

The Academy's Research Grants, generously supported by the American Academy of Audiology Foundation (AAA Foundation), provide a means for encouraging research as part of a student's training and for the development of new scientists within our profession. There are five categories of grants.

- New Investigator Research Grants of up to $10,000 are awarded to investigators who have recently completed a doctoral degree in audiology or the hearing sciences.
- Student Investigator Research Grants of up to $5,000 are awarded to graduate students working toward a degree in audiology.
- Student Summer Research Fellowships of $2,500 are awarded to undergraduate students or students currently enrolled in a graduate program in audiology who wish to gain exposure to a research environment with a mentor.
- Vestibular Research Grants of up to $5,000 and the Summer Research Fellowship stipends of $2,500 are awarded to graduate students for research on vestibular topics.
- Student Research Grant on Hearing Aids, Clinical Protocols, and Patient Outcomes provides awards up to $5,000.

Funded by the AAA Foundation in partnership with the American Institute of Balance Education Foundation.

Funded by the AAA Foundation in partnership with Unitron.

The deadline for receipt of all applications and related materials for funding in 2015 is September 30, 2014.

Practice Management and Regulatory Affairs

From coding and reimbursement questions and issues, to compliance and practice management resources and tools, the Academy gives you the latest information on how to manage your practice and serve patients. The Academy offers a Web site for coding, reimbursement, and compliance as well as an on-staff audiologist who has specific expertise in this area. This section of the Web site delves into topics such as Medicare coding, other coding-related questions, superbill templates as well as ICD-10 coding information. The Medicare area provides information on a broad spectrum of Medicare coverage and reimbursement issues, and information for audiologists to report on the Physician Quality Reporting System (PQRS) measures. The Compliance pages of the Web site offer detailed information regarding areas such as HIPAA, contracting with third party payers, electronic health records, and much more.

www.audiology.org/practice

eAudiology Web Seminars

The Academy offers members a wealth of timely information through its Coding and Reimbursement Series of live online and on-demand Web seminars covering the latest in coding updates and frequently asked member questions.

www.eaudiology.org

Coding, Reimbursement, and Compliance E-Newsletter

Stay up to date on current issues with this monthly e-newsletter, delivered to members on the third Wednesday of every month. Brought to you in part by the Academy's Coding and Reimbursement Committee, Practice Compliance Committee, and Practice Policy Advisory Council.

Communities

This resource provides members with greater accessibility and utility to share professional knowledge. It allows members to collaborate on a platform with a document posting area, listserv capabilities, discussion forums, and social media integration. Currently, there is a community dedicated to general audiology, as well as communities on coding, reimbursement, and compliance; pediatrics; and students. Stay tuned for more specialty communities coming soon.

Social Media

The Academy has a presence on popular social media Web sites Facebook.com, LinkedIn.com, and Twitter.com, allowing for networking among members and the opportunity to learn more about the Academy.

Online Directories

Search our "Membership Directory" to find fellow members. Allow potential patients to find you through our "Find an Audiologist" directory. Contact the Membership Department to learn more and to be included in these directories.

Direct Connect

Make your practice more visible to potential patients. As an Academy member, not only can you list multiple offices in the "Find an Audiologist" directory, but for $50 annually you can list your Web site address with a live link to your site.

Book

The Best Guide to Marketing for Audiologists

Because the typical audiology curriculum includes little instruction on this important subject, marketing is a topic that overwhelms many audiologists. With that in mind, members of the Business Enhancement Strategies and Techniques (BEST) Committee sought to develop a comprehensive yet simple guide to marketing that would be useful for audiologists working in a variety of practice settings.

www.audiology.org/pages/store.aspx

Brochures

The Academy has various consumer brochures to help educate patients about hearing loss, vestibular disorders, the dangers of noise, tinnitus, audiology, and more.

New this year is the updated How's Your Hearing: Ask an Audiologist brochure and the updated Noise and Hearing brochure. Visit the online store to order brochures in packs of 100, or order brochures, posters, and postcards customized with your practice information at the Custom Print Center to help market your practice.

Tablets

The Hearing Health Quick Test tablet includes a brief questionnaire designed to help people of all ages and other practicing physicians determine if further hearing screenings are necessary. As a 6" x 9" tablet of 50 tear-off sheets, this tool is useful in the waiting room, at health fairs, or to leave with other health-care offices. The Audiogram of Familiar Sounds tablet was redesigned in English and Spanish as a resource for use during screenings. Developed and approved by Academy audiologists this full-color audiogram also features a levels of noise chart. As an 8.5" x 11" tablet of 100 sheets, this tool is ideal for every patient room.

www.audiology.org/pages/store.aspx

Multimedia

The Academy has produced multimedia tools, including the Private Practice Start-Up Kit, the BEST Way: Reaching Physicians CD, and the Say What? CD.

www.audiology.org/pages/store.aspx

PRACTICE RESOURCES

Poster and Other Tools

Ear Anatomy Poster

This attractive full-color illustration is an updated version of the classic Zenith Ear Chart by Ernest W. Beck.

The illustration is available in a poster size (17" x 22"). Ideal as an educational tool no matter your practice setting.

www.audiology.org/pages/store.aspx

Clipboard

This dry-erase clipboard features an image of the ear on the back of the clipboard to help you provide each patient with a visual of his or her hearing loss or condition. Simply write on the image with a dry-erase marker for one patient, then wipe clean for the next patient.

The DiscovEARy Zone

The DiscovEARy Zone (DZ) is an exhibit designed to promote hearing loss prevention (HLP) and educate the public (and your patients/consumers) about the negative effects of listening to sounds that are too loud for too long. Enter the Zone and learn how you can incorporate the hands-on displays and activities into your practice.

The DiscovEARy Zone is displayed during the annual conference, AudiologyNOW! for the participants. The exhibit is also moved from the convention center venue to a public venue such as a mall, community center, or museum making it available to the community at large.

The DZ and other public awareness activities are funded in part by the AAA Foundation and by BlueTree Publishing who provides in-kind support in developing educational materials and programs.

PUBLIC AWARENESS

www.HowsYourHearing.org

The Academy's consumer site features an overview of topics including hearing, hearing loss prevention, hearing aids, cochlear implants, newborn hearing screening, aural rehabilitation, common conditions, and more. It also features easy access to the "Find an Audiologist" directory and the latest consumer-friendly articles from Audiology Today.

Recruitment Resources

As the profession of audiology continues to grow, a need exists to attract students to the field of audiology.

The Academy has created Web pages featuring tips and resources for members to use for recruitment efforts. These pages include information on how to find career fairs and career days at the schools in your area, as well as downloadable PowerPoint presentations, fact sheets, and a levels of noise bookmark.

Work with your state audiology organization to help recruit students through local, regional, and/or state science fairs. The AAA Foundation works with state audiology organizations to provide funds for science fair winner awards in local areas. Applications for the AAA Foundation Science Fair Award Funds are available on the AAA Foundation Web site, www.audiologyfoundation.org.

www.audiology.org/resources/recruitment

Meetings

The Academy attends various conventions to promote audiology awareness to physicians, consumer groups, hearing health-care organizations, state meetings, recruitment counselors, and more.

Audiology Today Magazine

Audiology Today (AT) is the American Academy of Audiology's flagship magazine of, by, and for audiologists. AT is a full-color, bimonthly magazine (six issues per year) specifically for audiologists. Each issue provides comprehensive reporting on topics relevant to audiology, including clinical activities and hearing research, current events, news items, professional issues, individual-institutional-organizational announcements, and other areas within the scope of practice of audiology. Academy members receive AT as a benefit of membership.

NEW! AT is now available in a digital format. It is viewable on any digital media device and accessible on the iTunes store.

www.audiology.org/resources/audiologytoday

Audiology Today E-Newsletter

Audiology Today e-newsletter is a monthly e-mail that features the latest information on the field of audiology, including topics such as the future of the profession, accreditation, education, private practice, and risk management, in addition to Academy news and announcements. Academy members receive this e-newsletter as a benefit of membership.

www.audiology.org/news/enews

Journal of the American Academy of Audiology Online

The Journal of the American Academy of Audiology (JAAA) is the Academy's scholarly peer-reviewed publication, issued 10 times per year and available in a robust digital format to Academy members as a benefit of membership. The JAAA publishes articles and clinical reports in all areas of audiology, including audiological assessment, amplification, aural habilitation and rehabilitation, auditory electrophysiology, vestibular assessment, and hearing science.

ARC15 VESTIBULAR ASSESSMENT AND REHABILITATION

MARCH 25 | SAN ANTONIO, TX | THE FIRST DAY OF AUDIOLOGYNOW!

An estimated 35 percent of adults in the United States over the age of 40 have experienced some degree of vestibular dysfunction. Although the occurrence of these dysfunctions increases with age, vestibular disorders affect the pediatric population as well.

This one-day translational conference will review these various dysfunctions and what research and practice is being done in the areas of vestibular assessment and rehabilitation. Scientists, researchers, clinicians, and students are all encouraged to attend and hear from an internationally respected panel of experts who will present the latest research and evidence from their laboratories and describe how it can be translated into clinical practice.
